Color

Indebted's logo color palette main color is blue and white with a few colored elements to make the graphics stand out. The organization's overall color palette consists of blues, white, and navy blue along with cyan, pink, & yellow to emphasize important points.

Typography Usage

Indebted's logo and website headers use the Futura Std typeface in bold font. The body paragraphs in the website uses Adelle in regular font, and the body for the posters uses Helvetica in light and bold. Making the headers the same typeface as the logo helps to reinforce the brand's identity and creates familiar associations for users. Using a serif typeface for the body creates contrast and establishes hierarchy.

Imagery

Since Indebted's main focus is student debt, I have imagery that depicts students, college, money, graduation, and other resources that are commonly used by students. These are often associated with the college, students, and/or debt. The images also help paint a vivid image of the organization's theme and target audience.
